

Sumifs, Countifs as LODs (Released in 9.0)

the sumif function is something from excel that is pretty much impossible to replecate in Tableau, and if it's possible most certainly isn't easy or intuitive. Sumif would allow for powerful calculations across charts and maps and would be a great added functionality. It would also make the crossover from excel to Tableau a little easier, thus making it less scary and more intuitive for folks who are used to that program since there are a lot of calculations that are very similar.
